

Ski Collection launches premium collection

29th July 2019, by Abi Butcher

The ski-in, ski-out Chalet Cocoon apartments in Val Thorens are in the new collection French Alps specialist Ski Collection has launched a premium range of properties for the 2019/20 ski season. The hand-picked range of ski chalets, apartments and hotels — some of which are brand new for the coming season — will be in the French ski resorts of Val d'Isère, Courchevel, Les Arcs and Val Thorens. All boast stunning interiors, designer touches and superb facilities.

The launch of the new range is in response to demand from customers old and new says Ski Collection co-founder Xavier Schouller.

"We've always had clients who are looking for something that feels very special and so the range has been launched to showcase those properties that have really raised their game in terms of luxury," Xavier told Where to Ski and Snowboard.

"New properties are constantly redefining what constitutes luxury. Clients are looking for more from their ski accommodation whether that's state of the art sound systems or an extra level of attention to detail in the design and fittings and these properties deliver on that.

"The Ski Collection Premium range aims to allow these special properties in our programme to stand out — plus in the past few years we've seen properties and developments evolve and offer over and above what was previously available. So we felt like it was time to highlight these."

The range includes the new 4* Hotel Le Refuge de Solaise (opening for the 2019/20 winter season in Val d'Isère, the recently built Keystone Lodge in Courchevel Moriond and the ski-in, ski-out 4* Luxury Chalet Cocoon apartments (pictured above) which opened in 2018.

Ski Collection is a sister company of Peak Retreats.
